The Species table has a one-to-many relationship with the Animals table. One species can have many animals, but each animal belongs to one species.

The Animals table has a many-to-one relationship with the Species table. Many animals can belong to one species.

The Adoptions table has a many-to-one relationship with both the Animals and Owners tables. Many adoptions can be for one animal, and one owner can adopt many animals.